Not illustrated. 1915 Excerpt: .object is to give the student such a grasp of fundamental principles as will enable him to understand the significance of accounts, which with the increasing emphasis on the business side of farming becomes important to the agriculturist as well as to other business men. 171. Principles of Accounting. Three credit hours. First semester. Prerequisite, Economics 139. Mr. Harris. The principles of modern accounting, including a study of some of its problems, especially those connected with the balance sheet and the income statement, as the valuation of assets, and the treatment of good will, depreciation, capital stock, profits, surplus, reserves, etc. 147-148. Financial History of the United States. Two credit hours. The year. Prerequisite, Economics 135-136. Mr. Walradt. A study of the fiscal and monetary history of the country from colonial times to the present, with special reference to federal taxation, loans, and financial administration, currency legislation, and the development of banking institutions. 149. Business Law. Three credit hours. Either semester. Prerequisite, Economics 135-136. This course aims to cover the subjects most useful to men looking to a business career. It is not intended as a substitute for courses in the law school. Its purpose is to give the young business man a grasp of legal principles, not to train him to be a lawyer. The main topics to be found in contracts, agency, sales, bailments and carriers, bills and notes, and partnerships and corporations are treated. Problems covering these topics are presented and discussed in...
