And he would have been deemed an atheist, or a driveling sciolist, who should have advanced sentiments in conflict with these! Not that the law of God specifies all the minute particulars in regard to every question of duty; but it lays down clearly certain broad, comprehensive, and distinct principles, by which thoughtful and serious men may determine the moral character of human action. He that orders his life in accordance with its express teaching, or in harmony with its general spirit, acts right. He that sets this at defiance, and regulates his conduct by principles in open conflict with the word of eternal truth, is a practical atheist. All the special pleading in the world, all the sophistry of the most subtle...
