Trafford Publishing, Canada, 2007. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 224 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Dr. Waisbren s observations in infectious disease, critical care, and immunology have been acknowledged internationally. He has been asked to lecture in Europe, China, Israel, and Russia. He has published 136 papers in the peer-reviewed medical literature. His website: is visited by thousands of individuals each month. This book augments the material on this website. Dr. Waisbren s contributions started while he was a medical resident at the University of Minnesota Medical School. There, in 1951, he observed for the first reported time, that gram negative bacteria in the bloodstream caused septic shock. Dr. Waisbren returned to his home city of Milwaukee, Wisconsin after his post-graduate training on the Harvard service at the Boston City Hospital, the Navy Medical Research Institute in Bethesda, Maryland, the Biological Warfare Center at Frederick, Maryland, and at the University of Minnesota Medical School. Dr. Waisbren has been practicing internal medicine, teaching students at First Marquette Medical School and then at the Medical College of Wisconsin, ever since. He has been director of the infectious disease control service at the Milwaukee County Hospital, associate director of St. Mary s Burn Center, and is now director of the Waisbren Clinic. This book discusses the adventures and serendipitous events that have allowed him to find that high dosages of combinations of antibiotics combined with gama globulin will help some seriously ill patients; that have allowed him to develop system methods of treating burns and critically ill patients; that allowed him to treat multiple sclerosis withimmunotherapy; that allowed him to treat some cancer patients with Coley s Vaccine and other immunomodulators; and that allowed him to discover a relationship between some cases of amyotrophic lateral sclerosis...
