Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Quality and Relevance of International Business Management Education in the United States an 18 Company, 12 School Study The growing economic interdependence of nation-states is, perhaps, the most glaring phenomenon of the post World War II era. U.S. investment abroad is now more than 155 billion dollars, a five-fold increase in twenty years. The products generated by these assets have a value of above 200 billion dollars annually - equal to one-fifth of the entire G.N.P. of the U.S.A. . Multinational corporations (moreover), are expanding at the rate of more than 10 percent yearly, twice the growth rate for gross world product. Should present trends continue, within the remaining years of this century the economy of the world will be more than half internationalized through the further development and expansion of multinational corporations. . Recognizing the importance of this phenomenon for American business enterprise, and, consequently, for American business education, the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB) has recently modified one of its accreditation standards to read: The purpose of the curriculum...

Reviews

This publication will be worth purchasing. It is written in straightforward words and not hard to understand. I am just very happy to explain how here is the best ebook we have read in my own lifestyle and might be the best publication for at any time.
